Dear Sir/Madam

SIMPLIFICATION OF PROCESS FOR OBTAINING PERMIT TO USE (PTU) FOR TEMPORARY BUILDINGS

BCA has streamlined and simplified the Permit To Use (PTU) approval process for temporary buildings (e.g. containers, standardized or modularised structures used in events) with previously approved design.

2 Owners who wish to erect a temporary building (refer to Annex A on the definition of temporary building) using a design previously approved by the Commissioner of Building Control can submit the permit applications based on a simplified process. This simplified process aims to save time and cost in obtaining BCA's clearance prior to the erection/installation of temporary buildings on site.

Simplified PTU Approval Process

3 The owner (through his/her appointed Professional Engineer (PE)) will first need to have obtained an earlier approval from the Commissioner for the design (plans and calculations) for their temporary buildings. For subsequent erection of temporary buildings using the same previously approved design, the same owner (through the same appointed PE) can apply for PTU based on the previously approved design, by citing the earlier approval reference number (without the need to resubmit plans and calculations in this subsequent permit application). The PE however, is still required to supervise the erection/installation and submit the relevant Certificates of Supervision to BCA prior to issuance of the permit. Please refer to Annex B for application process.

Implementation Date

4 The simplified PTU approval process for temporary buildings with previously approved design shall come into operation with immediate effect.
